SUBJECT: Public Agency Retirement Services Combination 115 Trust

Background:

Since June 2010, the Authority has participated in an Internal Revenue Code Section 115 trust for Other Post Employment Benefits (OPEB) established by Public Agency Retirement Services (PARS), to set aside funds to pay for future OPEB benefits that will be collected by current employees (the "OPEB 115 Trust"). In February 2023, the Board established a new Combination 115 Trust to replace the OPEB 115 Trust. The Combination 115 Trust has two accounts: the "OPEB Account" for prefunding OPEB liabilities, and the "Pension Account" for prefunding pension liabilities.

Combination 115 Trust Update:

As of June 30, 2026, there was approximately $7.0 million in the Authority's OPEB 115 Account. Since inception, the OPEB 115 Account has earned 5.21% annualized return on investment utilizing the PARS "moderately conservative (passive)" investment strategy, managed by PFM Asset Management. No funds have been withdrawn from the trust to pay benefits to date.

As of June 30, 2026, there was approximately $2.1 million in the Authority's Pension 115 Account. Since inception, the Pension 115 Account has earned 9.32% annualized return on investment utilizing the PARS "moderately conservative (passive)" investment strategy, managed by PFM Asset Management. No funds have been withdrawn from the trust to pay benefits to date.

Representatives from PARS and PFM Asset Management will join the Committee meeting to discuss the investment performance of the trust and share some insights into the future of the markets and trends.

THE ECONOMY

- U.S. real gross domestic product (GDP) grew at a seasonally adjusted annualized rate of 2.1% in the first quarter, up from 0.5% in Q4 2025. While personal consumption growth was 0.5%, its weakest pace since 2022, private domestic investment grew 7.9%. It was largely supported by business investment in information processing equipment and software IP, underscoring the impact of AI-related spending. Government spending was up also 4.4%, recovering from a 5.6% contraction, as activity resumed following the end of the government shutdown.
- U.S. labor-market conditions remained broadly stable in Q2. The three-month average gain in non-farm payrolls rose to 111k jobs, though hiring momentum slowed as the quarter progressed. The moderation appeared industry-specific rather than indicative of broad labor-market weakness. While the unemployment rate ticked down to 4.2%, labor-force participation also fell, suggesting slower labor-force growth, rather than stronger employment gains, was the primary driver of the decline.
- Inflation accelerated in the second quarter, as headline Consumer Price Index inflation (CPI) rose 4.2% year-over-year (YoY) in May, up from 3.3% at the end of the first quarter. Energy prices were the key driver, rising 23.5% YoY, while core CPI rose a more moderate 2.9%. Producer Price Index (PPI) inflation rose 6.5% YoY, the highest rate since late 2022. Core PPI (ex. food, energy and trade services), increased 5.1%, suggesting that inflation pressures broadened across the economy rather than being confined to the energy sector.

WHAT WE'RE WATCHING

- The Federal Reserve (Fed) held its target rate at 3.75% through Q2. The Federal Open Market Committee meeting delivered a more hawkish message, removing language suggesting an easing bias, while the updated dot plot shifted from implying a 2026 rate cut to a potential rate hike. Outside the U.S., the European Central Bank hiked rates for the first time since 2023, citing energy inflation across the Eurozone. The Bank of Japan also raised interest rates, marking the highest rate in 31 years, citing concerns that energy related price pass-through could push consumer inflation above the 2% target.
- Consumer sentiment recovered from its May low but finished below its March level, with the University of Michigan Survey of Consumers, at 49.5 in June. Manufacturing and services indicators were also in expansionary territory at quarter-end, with the ISM U.S. PMI surveys reporting of 53.3 and 54.0, respectively.
- The conflict with Iran and the disrupted Middle Eastern oil supplies have been major market drags since the effective closure of the Strait of Hormuz. Energy alone drove more than 60% of May's headline inflation, however an interim peace deal brokered in June prompted a sharp pullback in oil prices. The Brent Crude spot price fell to near pre-conflict levels at quarter end. Shipping transit through the Strait has begun also to pick up, though it remains less than half the pre-war average. Any renewed disruption could have an impact on inflation and economic growth.

QUARTERLY MARKET SUMMARY

Factors to Consider Over the Next 6-12 Months

Monetary Policy (Global):

- The Federal Reserve held rates steady at Chair Warsh's first meeting and removed forward guidance while shifting its focus to price stability. The June "dot plot" shifted more hawkish.
- Global central banks diverged, with ECB and BoJ hiking on persistent inflation while others remain on hold.

Economic Growth (Global):

- Global growth prospects improved following easing Middle East tensions, easing a key overhang on global supply chains and energy prices.
- AI-related productivity boost and easing tariff pressures are expected to mitigate downside risks to global growth amid geopolitical uncertainty and signs of softer consumer demand.

Inflation (U.S.):

- Headline inflation remains above target but may be at or near its peak as falling oil prices provide a disinflationary impulse.
- While long-run inflation expectations remain anchored, the Fed remains focused on the passthrough of higher energy prices into core inflation.

Financial Conditions (U.S.):

- Equity and fixed-income markets largely looked through the Middle East conflict, remaining focused on fundamentals and earnings strength.
- Recent capital raises amidst strong corporate fundamentals along with credit spreads near historical tightness reflect steady financial conditions.

Consumer Spending (U.S.):

- Consumer spending remained resilient amidst high energy prices, supported by higher-income households while affordability pressures persist for lower-income consumers.
- Real wages have turned modestly negative as inflation outpaces nominal wage gains, eroding purchasing power. Savings rate at multi-year lows.

Labor Markets (U.S.):

- Recent payroll gains exceeding expectations and the unemployment rate holding steady. Falling labor force participation a concern.
- Hiring breadth remains narrow, concentrated in healthcare and social assistance.
- The "low-hire, low-fire" dynamic persists, with labor demand stable but hiring activity subdued.

Corporate Fundamentals:

- Earnings growth expectations continued to improve for 2026 and 2027 across global equities with double digit growth expected across U.S. and international equity benchmarks.
- In the U.S., AI related capex spend, M&A, tax changes and rising profit margins are positives.

Valuations:

- Valuations across U.S. equities and credit markets reflect resilient growth, strong earnings growth and profit margins.
- Equity markets recovered strongly in Q1 leading to valuations higher than averages.

Political/Policy Risks:

- Conflict with Iran and the ongoing geopolitical uncertainty remain center stage even as MoU is signed to resolve the U.S.-Iran conflict.
- Tariff-related uncertainty and upcoming mid-term elections in the U.S. also warrant attention.

QUARTERLY MARKET SUMMARY

Investment Strategy Overview

Asset Class	Our Q3 2026 Investment Outlook	Comments
U.S. Equities		- The U.S.-Iran conflict has largely been resolved following the signing of an MoU, though some uncertainty remains and could affect energy prices and the inflation outlook, thereby impacting risk assets. - Underlying fundamentals remain supportive of positive equity returns, with corporate earnings expected to grow at a high double-digit pace. - Equity market broadening and strong earnings growth led us to modestly overweight domestic small caps in Q1, prior to the U.S.-Iran conflict. The subsequent recovery in valuations led us to close the overweight position and realign portfolios with strategic targets.
Large-Caps
Small-Caps
Non-U.S. Equities		- Several major central banks outside the U.S. have begun raising rates in response to near-term inflation pressures. At the same time, relatively attractive valuations and strong earnings growth provide a cushion against rising inflation expectations. - Emerging markets have been strong performers this year, driven by a rally in semiconductor-related companies, particularly in Korea and Taiwan. Earnings and profit margin estimates for EM equities continue to improve, while valuations remain attractive. However, a concentrated return profile, potential Fed rate hikes, and geopolitical uncertainty lead us to maintain an equal-weight allocation.
Developed Markets
Emerging Markets
Fixed Income		- The Fed remains on hold, with its June projections signaling a more hawkish stance. Future rate decisions will be dependent on inflation moving closer to 2%, as energy-related pressures ease. Increased uncertainty around the rate path is expected to weigh on risk assets. - Absolute yield levels remain attractive, while credit spreads are near historical lows. Returns are expected to be driven primarily by yield/carry rather than price appreciation. Strong profit margins, continued issuance, ongoing share buybacks, and active M&A activity point to a healthy corporate environment that remains supportive of credit spreads. - We remain neutral across both duration and credit sectors.
Core Bonds
Investment Grade Credit
High Yield Credit
Diversifying Assets		- Listed REITs recovered more strongly than listed infrastructure in Q2 as the economic resilience narrative gained traction. However, the long-duration and rate-sensitive nature of both asset classes leads us to maintain a neutral stance. - In addition to providing diversified sources of return, improving sentiment around AI continues to support data center and utility buildout, creating a favorable tailwind for listed real assets.

Fixed income manager and index characteristics are gathered from external sources. When average credit quality is not available, it is estimated by taking the market value weights of individual credit tiers on the portion of the strategy rated by a NRSRO.

It is not possible to invest directly in an index. The index returns shown throughout this material do not represent the results of actual trading of investor assets. Third-party providers maintain the indices shown and calculate the index levels and performance shown or discussed. Index returns do not reflect payment of any sales charges or fees an investor would pay to purchase the securities they represent. The imposition of these fees and charges would cause investment performance to be lower than the performance shown.
